

Crowd Control Systems

Securing your site is our specialty!

MANY OPTIONS AVAILABLE

When hosting an event of any size, the safety of event participants is paramount. Through careful planning and site layout, risk of injury can be mitigated. This ultimately enhances the spectator experience.

Our crowd control systems are available in different types depending on your needs. We have lightweight galvanized steel crowd barricades to help with queues and site separation. These are also available in a square, black, premium model. Heavy duty black steel crowd control barricades are also useful for speakers, concerts and other performances. For a more elegant look we also offer white picket fencing.

No matter the layout of your site, we have the materials to keep your site controlled from unwanted access or even to help separate different areas within your site.
